New York City Police Department

2nd Annual Campus Sexual Assault Poster Contest

For undergraduate and graduate students,

With $5000 in prizes.

We are inviting all of New York City’s undergraduate and graduate students to showcase their artistic talent and their commitment to ending campus sexual assault by participating in the NYPD 2nd Annual Campus Sexual Assault Poster Contest. The New York City Police Department hopes that this contest will encourage students to contact the NYPD by calling 911 or the Special Victims Division Hotline at (646) 610-7272 if they think they have been sexually assaulted.

We want victims of sexual assault to speak with Special Victims Division detectives even if they are unsure about pressing charges. We know that campus sexual assaults are largely underreported, and we are determined to remove any roadblocks that might discourage victims from coming forward. We want victims to feel encouraged and supported to report to the police even if they have reported to their college or university. We can only achieve this goal if students make us aware of these incidents.

The first prize winner will have his/her poster distributed throughout NYC college and university campuses. The winning poster will also be displayed on the NYPD’s website, Facebook page, and Twitter feed.

Posters must be submitted electronically from September 19, 2016 at 7am EST to October 19, 2016 at 5pm EST.

Please read the poster contest Official Rules carefully, as only posters that meet the contest rules will be considered. We hope that you will participate in this contest and help us end the silence of sexual assault survivors. If you have any questions, please email the NYPD Office of Collaborative Policing at collab.policing@nypd.org
