

Collateral Damage: The Human Face of War

September 7–December 1
2012

Opening reception
with several artists

Sunday September 23
10am–1pm

Cover:

Self Immolation: A Cry for Help

Stephanie Sinclair

A rose is held up to the face of Rokhshana Rahimi who was near death at Herat Public Hospital. Rokhshana set herself on fire when her husband, who left her to go to Iran 14 years earlier, demanded she return to him. She died in the hospital from her wounds. More than 700 women have set themselves in fire in Afghanistan in a desperate cry for help.

Above left:

Bedrooms of the Fallen

Ashley Gilbertson

Sgt. Thomas M. Gilbert

Sgt. Gilbert, 24, was killed in an IED attack on October 25, 2006 in Falluja, Iraq. He was from Downers Grove, Illinois.

Above right:

Men with War

Samantha Appleton

Praying in an Al-Quada Safe House, Ramadi, Iraq

Back:

Gays in the Military: How America Thanked Me

Vincent Gianni

Don Bramer, Washington, D.C., 2011, Lieutenant, U.S. Navy

